«Lågvassbua» in the Skjækra Landscape Protected area

Lågvassbua is located near the “Norwegian Mid-Point” (the geographic center of Norway) not far from Blåfjella- Skjækrafjella National Park.

The cabin was originally an old herder’s cabin that was restored and enlarged in 1992, and the cabin is comfortable and has a good and authentic atmosphere. The cabin has two separate sections, half of the cabin you can rent for private use, while the other half is an open cabin available for hikers to use without reservations. The area is an eldorado of recreational opportunities from fishing, hunting, berry-plucking to just hiking.

Location and area description

Lågvassbua is located alone with a fabulous view over Lågvatnet (Låg Lake) to the south, Lågvass Mountains to the west, and Skjækerhatten (a peak) towards the East. The terrain is gentle and open and offers easy hikes. There is a well-marked path from the nearest parking lot (70% is made up of dual planks) all the way to the cabin (12 km total distance)

NOTE!: The trip to and from the cabin can vary considerably depending on the weather, so use normal field-sense and be prepared with appropriate clothing, map and compass, and let someone know where you are heading (there is no cell-phone coverage in the area).

Available equipment

A boat is included in the cabin rent, and is to be found in the boathouse on the lakeshore. Pole fishing and oter fishing is free of charge on all the Steinkjer Forest Department land. In addition, our cabin renters have permission to set 3 nets in the Lake (nets and an ice drill are available in the cabin).

A waterproof tour map of Skjækerfella can be purchased at the Norli Bookstore in Steinkjertlf.: +47 74150600.
